Yankee Co-Ops Re-Sign

The first of the campaigns among the important co-operative associations of tobacco growers in the South to sign up for a second five year contract, has resulted in a very important victory for cooperative marketing of tobacco. Connecticut, where the farmers have just put over the second sign up campaign of the Connecticut Valley Tobacco Association.

Quoting from the report of this campaign just received at Raleigh headquarters of the Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association "The growers of the Connecticut Valley fully realized the importance of the second sign-up over. Not only the members but the outside growers openly expressed themselves as believing that a failure of the campaign would mean a calamity to the tobacco industry of the Connecticut Valley. There were many, however, waiting for the eleventh hour to see if they could not let "George" do it. Monday (the last day) witnessed a landslide of contracts into the hartford office.

The association will have a larger percentage of control of the tobacco in the Connecticut Valley than at any time since its organization."

Over 400 members did their utmost to get every available acre into the contract which runs until 1931, serving as canvassers in the second sign-up campaign.

While the Yankee farmers of Connecticut have signed up approximately 75 per cent of the tobacco crop in the Connecticut Valley until 1931, the Carolina-Virginia growers of the tri-state pool after marketing an average of 150 million pounds a year thru their association have set their mark for deliveries of 200 million pounds from the 1925 crop.

An Open Letter To Mr. Carter

Hon Walter Carter,
Chairman of the Byrd Campaign,
Amherst, Virginia.

My dear Mr. Carter:

Having read Senator Mapp's radio speech, I have changed my allegiance from Byrd to Mapp over-night. Kindly chaned my reservation on the "Byrd Special" and put me on the map as those who want simplification and economy in government.

It is useless for Mr. Byrd to preach about "paying as we go," when there is nothing to pay with, without an increase in taxes, and whil an army of office-holders are eating up the state's resources. Commodore McDonald Lee takes his joyrides on the "Mayflower" of the James, and the farmer is ground to death between high taxes and the high price of labor. There' the situation in a nut-shell, and Mr. Byrd is not willing to do anything about it, while Mr. Mapp is on the war-path againtt it. Count me out of the game in which the voter loses any way he plays it. This state office trust, which Senator Mapp is fighting, will have to be changed, and now is the time to do it.

With kind regards, and personal good wishes, I am,

Very truly yours,
GEORGE H. RAY.

The Culinary Art.

When I was young I once took a boat trip down to New Orleans to attend a house party, and in spite of all the exciting time for me, I remember the wonderful breakfast I had. Surely one thing that never is forgotten except in the coffee-sugar cookies that Madame Du Pont, our hostess, made for her guests. I was trying to coax her recipe the other day and I recognize with a few changes, two about good, if not new, ones. If my memory is a little more reliable, I will try to tell you. Take one cupful of shortening with one cupful of New Orleans sugar; add of each a cupful of strong, hot molasses, and one cupful of strong, hot coffee. Let the mixture cool, and then add one well beaten egg, two teaspoonfuls of vanilla extract, three teaspoonfuls of powdered ginger or cinnamon, enough soft-ish dough to roll out to make a rich dough. Cut and bake in a quick oven.

Real Culinary Art!

Madame had the French woman's love of thrift and also her knack of concocting tasty dishes from bits of almost nothing. When she had a piece of dough left she considered it useful to throw them all together and she covered little pieces of pastry or custard cups and fill them filled with custards or fruits. Sometimes she would add the freshly meringue. We always enjoyed these delicious tid-bits and Madame loved to surprise her young guests with them.

BACKACHE
Mississippi Lady Benefited by Taking Cardui.

"I took Cardui for backache and a weakened, run-down condition, and it strengthened and helped me," says Mrs. Mattie Hurt, of Coldwater, Miss.

"Before the birth of my children, when weak and nauseated, I took Cardui, after the birth of my children, when just getting up to do my work, I took a couple of bottles of Cardui and it never failed to strengthen and help me when taking it.

"I seemed to enjoy my food and my back would feel stronger, don't believe I could have kept going had it not been for Cardui and the strength it gave me.

"When change of life came on I took Cardui down in bed. Life seemed to be just a terrible drag. I did not have strength for anything. My back hurt. My limbs hurt. I was so nervous I couldn't rest.

"I knew what Cardui had done, so sent straight for it, and I did just as it had done before—strengthened and built me up."

Thieves again broke in and took considerable property from the barber shop of Floyd Doss and Joe LeGrand here Sunday night. This night pillaging must stop if it takes every able bodied man in the town to apprehend the thieves. It has always been one of the joys and comforts of our town—that all citizens were zealously protected in their person and property rights—we must maintain this reputation at all costs.

Smith—Blanks

Miss Grace Blanks, daughter of Mrs. Scott, of Lynchburg, and Richard E. Smith, of Appomattox, were married yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The marriage ceremony, performed by Dr. Lynch, took place at the home of Mrs. Scott. The home was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and flowers.

The bride was lovely in a green ensemble suit, with matching accessories, carrying a shower bouquet of tiny rosebuds. Miss Blanks is the well-known niece of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Owen, of Oakville, and was a member of graduating class of 1924 of Appomattox High School. The groom is manager of the Ould-Lawson Hardware Co., here and is a popular young business man.

After the wedding, where many friends and relatives of the contracting parties had gathered for the happy event, the united pair left for an auto tour of the Valley. On their return they will make their home with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Smith here.

Ferguson—Smith

The marriage of George Dewey Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ferguson, and Miss Effie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, all of Appomattox, took place at the home of Dr. R. A. McFarland, the officiating minister pastor of Rivermont Baptist church, Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. After a trip to Norfolk, the couple will reside in Appomattox.

Frisby Kitzmiller

Frisby Kitzmiller in the 87th year of his age, dropped dead on the road near his home here Friday while out walking. Mr. Kitzmiller had been living here for a number of years with his daughter, Mrs. M. C. Smith and was reared in Keedysville Maryland. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. E. K. Dunn of Meyersville, Maryland, and Mrs. M. C. Smith of this place. Mr. Kitzmiller was Union soldier in the Civil War, having served thru the entire war as a private, was severely wounded by a grape shot in the temple, but his long life was one of activity and even up to the time of his death he was active and walked about on the farm wherever he choose alone. Services were conducted at his late home here by Rev D. G. Trent and his body was taken back to Keedysville, Md., for burial accompanied by mem bers of the family.

Obituary

Mrs. Mary N. Marshall better known by the younger generation in her community as Granny Pet, died at the home of her daughter Mrs. T. H. Ford near Spring Mill Tuesday a. m. June 16 1925, about 9 o'clock, in her 78th year. Her health had been failing for sometime, but she was always cheerful and bright; never grumbling at her lot, but content, and when the end was near she often said, "My home is ready, I am prepared to go, when I am called", so the angel of death came and called her spirit to its home where she will suffer no more. We will miss her, Oh! so much but our loss is her gain.

Mrs. Marshall was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Harvey and was married to Robert Marshall son of Doug Marshall Sr., who preceded her to the grave several years ago. She is survived by four daughters Mesdames. T. H. Ford of this county, Spoonhour of Penn., Bernice and Gladys Pugh of Charlotte Co., and seven sons: Billy Marshall of California, J. B. Marshall of Illinois, T. T. and Collier Marshall of Portsmouth, Ohio, N. D., E. H. and H. B. Marshall of this county, also 28 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ford, Wednesday p. m., at 4:30, conducted by Rev. McNair pastor of New Concord Presbyterian church. The hymns "Home of the Soul" and "Sometime We'll Understand" were sung at the home.

Pall-bearers were the grandsons: J. B. Ford, Elliott, DeWitt, John, Frank and Glen Marshall. The floral designs were carried by the granddaughters Mesdames. Edwin Jordan, Elva Overstreet, Josephine Harvey, Fettie Laughlin, and Misses Mary D. Pauline, and Lucile Marshall, Hattie, Rachel, Ruby, Margaret and Myrtle Pugh, Evie and Bernice Ford. Interment took place in the family burying ground near Howerton's on Reedy Creek, where a large concourse of relatives and friends were present to pay their last tribute of respect to her memory. The hymns "It is well with my Soul" and "Christians Goodnight" were sung near sun down as the grave was being filled.

All the children were present except Messrs. Billy and J. B. Marshall and Mrs. Spoonhour, they being so far away could not reach here in time.

Oakville

Walker Phelps and wife, Norton Phelps and Mrs. T. J. Gardner, spent the week-end with their sister, Mrs. Harry Lockard in Richmond, and were glad to find her getting on so nicely. She was brought home from the hospital Sunday and there were many glad hearts to see her, as they had little hope of her recovery. She expects to visit Appomattox for the summer as soon as she gets able to stand the trip.

FOREST VIEW

We are so much in need of rain.

Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Marshall and three sons and Mr. Collier Marshall of Portsmouth, Ohio, attended the funeral of their mother and returned to their home Sunday after visiting relatives.

John Marshall and sister, Pauline, attended the funeral of their grandmother and have returned to Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Sims were visitors in the home of M. W. Hunter recently.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Laughlin, Misses Evie and Bernice Ford of Lynchburg attended the funeral of their grandmother, Mrs. Ford near Appomattox Wednesday.

The cotns were the gift of a son of an old citizen of Petersburg, whose name was not given. Through the sale of some of his father's Confederate bonds, the son realized a little sum, which he devoted to buying these cotns for the Confederate women, in that they might feel that they had a part in the gigantic sculpture at Stone Mountain, and so that they might enjoy and cherish the coins.

Urge Retention Of Professors.

At the meeting of the board of visitors of the University of Virginia on June 24 the board will have for consideration petitions from students and alumni asking that the resignations be not accepted. The undergraduate petition includes 1,100 names—practically the whole student body.

It is understood that Dr. Howze, instructor in neurology in the school of medicine, will not be an applicant for reelection. It is said that he expects to take up the independent practice of medicine. The other cases remain on the same basis, however.

The three professors offered their resignations at the time of their indictment on liquor charges, May 17.

Must Pay For Cattle Destroyed.

The State of Virginia must pay for cows destroyed because of tuberculosis, whether or not animals are found, upon investigation, to have actually had the disease, according to an opinion given the State Department of Agriculture by Attorney-General John R. Saunders.

The question arose after the slaughter of a herd belonging to W. M. Cease and J. J. Burleigh. Twenty-eight animals of the herd failed to react to the tuberculosis test, but these were destroyed. Twenty-two of the number were found to have had tuberculosis and six failed to show trace of the disease. As the law seemed to provide for payment for tubercular cattle only the Attorney-General was asked for an opinion.

Methodists Fall Convention.

The annual State conference of Virginia Methodists will be held in Richmond this fall at Broad Street Methodist Church, it was decided at a meeting in the Methodist Publishing House of the committee appointed to select the place for the 1925 session. The conference is expected to open on October 14, and will have about 75 persons in attendance. The question of unification of Northern and South ern churches is to be the outstan ding issue.

STATE CAPITAL

Bad Color Not Detrimental.

Richmond.—

A bad color in 90 per cent. of 41,180,000 gallons of gasoline from which specimens were examined was due largely to bad storing conditions, Commissioner G. W. Kolner, of the State Department of Agriculture, declared in a report. The tests, which showed such a large percentage of gasoline to be deficient, were made from 1,600 samples by inspectors of the department, although the commissioner pointed out the State provides no money for carrying on the work.

Nothing unusual developed at the meeting of the Board of Agriculture interested in fertilizer, Commissioner Kolner said commenting on the amount sold since January in the State and the large number of samples sent to the State laboratory for analysis.

Will Take Medal To Hoffbauer.

The beautiful gold medal which the city of Richmond is presenting to Charles Hoffbauer, for his contribution to the art of the city in the mural decorations of the Confederate Memorial Institute was placed in the hands of Mrs. J. D. Clothier, who will take it to Paris, by Mayor J. Fulmer Bright.

Mrs. Clothier, who is herself, one of Richmond's well-known artists, will sail for New York on Saturday, carrying letters of introduction to the American ambassador at Paris, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Paris, and others. The presentation of the medal to Hoffbauer will be arranged by the American ambassador.

The medal is of beaten gold, with the wind-swept figure of a woman, who holds in one hand a huge fleur, and in the other a laurel branch, in relief. There is an insert of the seal of Richmond, with its motto, "Sic itur ad astra." The words, "Richmond, Virginia," also appear around the edge of the medal.

Present Memory Coins.

That remnant of the Confederacy which dwells in the Home for Needy Confederate Women touched the glory which is to immortalize at Stone Mountain its heroes, when each little old lady clasped tightly in her hands the beautiful Stone Mountain Memorial coin presented to her by General W. B. Freeman, commander-in-chief of the Confederate Veterans.

The coins were the gift of a son of an old citizen of Petersburg, whose name was not given. Through the sale of some of his father's Confederate bonds, the son realized a little sum, which he devoted to buying these coins for the Confederate women, in that they might feel that they had a part in the gigantic sculpture at Stone Mountain, and so that they might enjoy and cherish the coins.
